

Writers Read at Concordia

Irish Poet Louis de Paor

Louis de Paor is considered a key protagonist in the 1970s-80s Irish language poetry renaissance, and his first bilingual collection won the Victorian Premier's Award for Literary Translation. He was also granted a Writer's Fellowship by the Australia Council in 1995. In Ireland he has received the O'Shaughnessy Award and the Oireachtas Prize for poetry. His academic work includes articles and books on a broad range of writing in Irish from the court poetry of medieval Ireland to the work of contemporary poets. He is currently working on a study of the writings of Flann O'Brien.

This reading is co-sponsored by the Department of English and the Centre for Canadian Irish Studies with support from the Faculty of Arts and Science and the Irish Government Department of Community, Rural and Gaeltacht Affairs.
